

HEAVY VEHICLES HAVE ENCROACHED UPON THE INTERNAL ROADS OF PREM NAGAR, NEAR CHHOTI SABZI MANDI, JANAKPURI. THE RESIDENTS HAVE COMPLAINED TO THE TRAFFIC POLICE AND MCD.

■ As part of its green campaign, Nurture Nature, students of DAV Centenary Public School, Paschim Enclave, took out a rally to raise eco awareness.

Students spread a green message

htpacenotes

In an extensive tree plantation campaign titled Nurture Nature, hundreds of saplings were planted by the students of DAV Centenary Public School, Paschim Enclave, in the school premises as well as the adjoining areas. Students carried plants to the neighbourhood houses and planted them with the help of the residents. The students also sensitised the residents by taking out a rally, holding placards with slogans and singing songs. The drama club presented a street play highlighting the importance of trees and the need to save them.

In a symbolic activity, all the participants pasted paper-leaves on a hollow tree cut-out. Junior students presented a group dance, dressed in the costumes of trees. The teachers and the local residents applauded the efforts of the children. Principal Manju Malik concluded the day's activity by congratulating the students for their efforts.

Felicitated

It was a proud moment for St Mark's Senior Secondary Public School, Meera Bagh, when their chairman TP Aggarwal was felicitated by chief minister Sheila Dikshit, for being elected the first vice president of International Federation of Film Producers' Association (an apex body of Global Film Producers).

■ The chairman of St Mark's Senior Secondary Public School was felicitated by chief minister Sheila Dikshit.

dents. The students took it further by celebrating van mahotsav in school. A special assembly was organised in which students took a pledge to save trees.

Class 5 students presented a play on Chipko Andolan and Class 4 sang an earth song. The highlight of the day was a huge Tree of Pledge created with leaves on which students from all classes put up their messages. It was an interesting day for students as they learnt the importance of trees in our life.

English Week

Ganga International School, Sawda, organised a plethora of activities during the English week celebration. Students took part in dumb charades, word relay race, vocabulary games, English song competi-the successful completion of the week.

Celebration

Capturing the quintessence of Lord Krishna's theory of karma, the students of Class 5 of Delhi Public School, Dwarka, presented, Krsna: In Search of the Absolute. Ashok Chandra, chairman, DPS Dwarka and DPS Society, graced the occasion. Well known kathak dancer Shovana Narayan, member, DPS Dwarka and DPS Society was the chief guest. The programme began with the auspicious lamp lighting ceremony.

The children took the audience through a karmic odyssey highlighting the importance of principles of truth, morality and karma.

Chandra congratulated Dwarka team for putting mesmerising performance. He appreciated the choice of theme as Lord Krishna's teachings are universal. He also released a souvenir to commemorate the celebrations. Narayan appreciated the hard work and enthusiasm exhibited by the students.

In her address Sunita Tanwar, principal, DPS Dwarka, emphasised that one should do our karma without expecting benefits because sooner or later one definitely gets the fruits. She added that a person cannot attain social progress by renouncing desires alone. In addition, renunciation there must be action, as action is the force that sets the cosmic wheel in motion and keeps it going.